A Cross Border Networking Event

Business meets Science

Smart Building Engineering

We are happy to invite you to our event „Business meets Science“ within EarlyTech, a cross-border technology transfer project. This event with the focus on “Smart Building Engineering” is being organised in cooperation with AACHEN BUILDING EXPERTS e. V., a regional network of experts in the field of Innovative Building.

We will discuss topics such as sustainability, innovative building and opportunities in the neighbouring countries. Several researchers, experts and a lawyer will share their expertise and answer your questions. You will also be offered a guided tour through the “Wijk van Morgen” (District of Tomorrow), which consists of houses that were developed and built by students and researchers at Zuyd Hogeschool, Heerlen, according to different energy saving concepts.

We hope to engage companies and researchers from the Euregio Maas-Rhine working on topics related to Smart Building, and to promote a dialogue across the borders.

We look forward to welcoming you!
